Two Chambers for Fast, Continuous Compost Action

Dual-bin tumbler makes two batches at once. Fill one side with kitchen scraps and yard waste, then stop adding materials and let them “cook,” turning the bin every few days to speed up decomposition. In the meantime, add scraps to the other side. The recycled plastic body absorbs heat and the sturdy steel frame and axle make turning easy. Each bin holds approx. 3 cubic ft.

Gardening for Good

How we partner to support pollinators

We've planted another pollinator garden here at Gardener's Supply! The garden is a joint effort with KidsGardening.org and the Vermont Community Garden Network.

Longtime advocates for pollinators, we donated the materials and space to build the garden, and local volunteers planted it with pollinator-friendly flowers, including monarda and Joe-pye weed.

"By supporting pollinators, we can do a world of good."

"Monarchs get most of the glory. But all pollinators, including birds, bees and other insects, are threatened by pesticides and habitat loss," says KidsGardening.org spokesperson Maree Gaetani. "Planting gardens and leaving wild spaces helps sustain these important 'beneficials.' By supporting pollinators, we can do a world of good." Learn more at wildforpollinators.org.

Gardener's Supply donates 8% of our profits to charitable causes, including our two partners who planted this new pollinator garden.
